Hon. John. J Crittenden. The distinguished pacificator and patriot was serenaded before leaving Washington—and addressed the crowd who had asembled. We make the following extract from his speech:

"Our country is is in great distress, and you, I know, feel a particular interest, as it is natural for you to do. Congress has failed to save it, and it is now in the bands of the people. I am one of those who believe in the intelligence and virtue of the people. I believe when they take this business in hand that they will do it.

Their hands are strong enough for the work, and their hearts are patriotic and work, and their hearts are patriotic and this movement.

but the settlement of our national trouver, the success of the success of the people. The success of that party depends upon the unity and harmony in act, as Commissioners on South Carolina, and who were this end, we propose the holding of a Convention of the Union men in this District, at Athens, on the 4th day of May next, to select a Union early depends upon all true Union men to join as in this movement.

We call upon all true Union men to join as in this movement. seen, throught the long struggle that we had in Congress from every part of this country, thousands and thousands of plain citizens turning aside from their own affairs to consider the Union, and to sign be too highly estimated. Let us go into it with the eve of Mr. Faulkner, and sent petitions to Congress of earnest prayer that they would take care of the country, and settle its difficulties, and restore our peace and our Union. Let them take it in hand; let their great and might yvoice be heard in the Capitol, and all will be safe. Our people do not want to separate. It is the little petty politicians that run about from cross-roads to cross-roads that lead and misguide the people, and it is they that try to make us believe that we hate one another. It is false!—Yes, it must be. We do not hate one niother. For petty little schemes, for party purposes and party politics, it is found convenient and profitable to these little politicians to force that impression upon the minds of the people. I have been in the North, I have been in the North of the people, I have been in the North of the people, I have been in the North of the people, I have been in the North of the people, I have been in the North of the people, I have been in the North of the people, I have been in the North of the people, I have seen nothing and recieved nothing but kindness wherever I have been. The people are rightly disposed.—

Be too nighty estimated. Let us gut more and received in the Court of bloods and bloods and bloods and bloods and bloods and party prosounced for the Union as it is. Let the people diseard, is the test people diseard, is the content of the people, by manufacturing the sentiment of the people of the intercept recommend that the people of Roame county purposes and party politics, it is found convenient and profitable to these little politicians to force that impression upon the minds of the people. I have been in the West, I have been in the West, I have been only and from one part of the country to the other I see no such feeling exhibited, and I do not believe it exists. I have seen nothing and recieved nothing but kindness wherever I have been the country distributed to represent this Congression.

The people and send petitions to Congress of earnest prayer that they would take care of the exists. I have seen nothing and recieved nothing but kindness wherever I have been. The people are rightly disposed.— It is only the leaders that are dissatisfied. Leave the people to thouselves, and we should live in union, in fraternity, in freedom and in greatness all the days of our life and our children's lives. [Vociferous demands, there can be no doubt of the result.—

cheering.]

I hope it is yet in reserve for us to understand one another from section to section; that as day speaks unto day, night unto night, section will speak unto section, and that we shall come to understand from one end to the other that there stand from one end to the other that there will be no question as to the perpetuity of the Union. There is not a mortal man, there is not a county in all the United States that can derive, in my judgment, any benefit from separation or disunion. To stand together is to strengthen our selves—is by our united might to work out each other's greatest possible good. The vision of disunion is anarchy, disorder, and ultimate war. Then comes despotism, and instead of congresses and free representation we shall have some monarchy, or some despot to tax and burden and sue over the people. Let us if we can take over the people. Let us if we can take care of the Union and the Union will take care of us. In a word, do not be deceived; let no delusive scheme or glittering hopes that may be held out of advantages to be derived from our separation—breaking up into little States—let no idea of that sort delude you for a single moment. The people—the working people, the nechanics of the country, the bone and sinew of this District. He is the people's man. the land—is withered and wasted in a con-dition of that kind. War comes, you are dition of that kind. War comes, you are called upon for taxes, you are called upon for military service. Armies are concentrated in your little villages, and you are made the pack horses and burden-bearers in time of war. Liberty is to be found and enjoyed only in peace. My felloweitizens, there is a restless class of people among us who are fond of disorder and take pleasure in living upon the honest labor of others—who thrive by disorder and by war. But you honest people, who and by war. But you honest people, who live by the proud earnings of your labor, and in the liberty and freedom of this land, can hold up your heads with as inuch pride as the proudest nabob in the land. You are men who desire peace.— These other characters that I have alluded to can only live by eating up your sub-stance. That is the whole amount of it. You should preserve the principles of the Union; you should love this Union, for love is the seat, the very heart of it, and always will be. It is in the Constitution and the Union that your safety, your sucthe not deluded from that. It is the ark of your salety; therein are your real hopes and your real fortunes treasured up. Severally years has praved this to you. Was there ever a country which has grown like this?—ever a people multiplied and prospered like we have it. that seventy years? No. You are now one of the greatest mations of the world, and will you consent to break this union up and be scattered like the potsherds of the earth? Is there one of you but what would be ashamed to be questioned in foreign lands about the present condition of your country? Not one of you. I have had myself some little curiosity to look abroad upon foreign lands. I am a native born man of the Western woods; but, so help me God, if any one should offer to bear my expenses now I would not go to any civilized nation of the world to be questioned about the condition of my country. F would be ashamed to answer. [Langhter.]

Fellow-citizens, I shall be led into a speech presently. Let me offer you my sincere and most cordial acknowledgments. I am going to part with you. I shall be often back to see you. I never parted with a friend in my lifetime in any peril and danger that my heart did not swell with the hope that I should meet.

Another Cure for Diptheria. The New York Examiner says: As the newspapers are full of remedies for this dangerous affection of the throat, some of them very good, and some of them very silly, we will give one which we know to silly, we will give one which we know to be used by some eminent physicians, and which we have never known to fail. If applied early. Diptheria, in its early stages, may be recognized by any person of ordinary capacity, by two marked symtoms: the sensation of a bone or hard substance in the throat, rendering swallowing difficult and painful, and a marked fetor, or unpleasant smell of the breath, the result of its putrefactive tendency. On the appearance of these symtoms, if the patient is old enough to do so, give a piece of gum camphor, of the size of a marrowfat pea, and let it be retained in the mouth, swallowing slowly the saliva charged with it until it is all gone. In an hour or so give another, and at the end of another hour a third; a fourth will not usually be required, but if the pain and unpleasant breath are not relieved, it may be used two, or three times more, at a little longer intervals, say swo hours.

If the child is young, powder the camphor, which can easily be done by adding a drop or two of spirits of alcohol to it.

If the child is young, powder the camphor, which can easily be done by adding a drop or two of spirits of alcohol to it, and mix it with an equal quantity of powdered loaf sugar, or better, powdered rock candy, and blow it through a quill or tube into its throat, depressing the tongue with the haft of a spoon. Two or three applications will relieve. Some recommend powdered aloes or pellitory with the camphor, but observation and experience have satisfied us that the camphor is sufficient alone. It acts probably by its virtues as diffusible stimulent, and antiseptic qualities.

The time is drawing near when the voters of the Third Congressional District will be called upon to sleet their Representative in the next Congress. We believe the prosperity of the State, not only, but the settlement of our national troubles, de-pend in a great degree upon the success of the pend in a great degree upon the success of the Union party in Tennessee. The success of that party depends upon the unity and harmony is act, as Commissioners on the part of action of its members. With a view to secure this end, we propose the bolding of a Convention of the Union men in this District, at Athene, on the 4th day of May next, to select a Union canthe the sunsuaching contest.

LOUDON, March 19, 1861. Editor Post:-The Union-loving voters of old toane, so far as my observation extends, duly appreciate the true and generous view taken by you in your issue of the 15th inst., in reference to the worthy and true Union-loving Representative from this, the 3d District-Hon, R. B. BRARSON Col. B. has been true to the principles upon which the government was founded by our great and good fathers, and has in every instance acted with filelity to the trust confided to him by the people, for which he deserves to be rewarded, and will be faithfully attended to by the people. Under all the circumstances, it would not only be unwise, men to aid in returning him to Congress-thus showing our appreciation of a true and faithful public servant. A word to the wise, and I will add, the generous, is sufficient. OLD ROANE.

The Charleston Mercury.

The Charleston Mercury continues its pposition to the financial policy of the Confederate States," and even stigmatizes the export duty on cotton as "revolutionary." To this effect it says in its number of the 12th instant:

tionary." To this effect it says in its number of the 12th instant:

"For ourselves we have regarded this measure, adopted by the Southern Provisional Government, as revolutionary in its character, and justifiable solely on the ground of the public emergencies for the time being. As a species of legislation adapted to ordinary times, we have looked upon it both as unjust and indefensible. Never having been of those who have expected 'civil waa,' 'invasion,' &c., or any thing here in the shape of conflict, to result from secession, except perhaps a brush at Fort Sumter, we should very much have preferred at once a revenue tariff on imports, with low duties of ten or fifteen per cent, ad valorem. Yielding, however, to the apprehensions of those who fear a bloody war, and wish to see the South put immediately on a war footing, we make no opposition to this provisional arrangement. At a future day we shall consider the subject of export duties."

ter:

"How far this discretion will revivify the hopes and stimulate the efforts of reconstructionists throughout the South is a matter to be discovered by observation. The temper and intention of the Northern people has now been so thoroughly developed and exposed to the eyes of all those at the South who will see that we trust Union menders are too late in their attempts upon the virtue and integrity of our people. Crushed eggshells and friendship abused can nover be monded. We have no doubt, however, that Herculcan efforts will be made in that direction, and must only take good care of these and must only take good care of these weaker brethern at the South, whose sentiments are stronger than their reason, or who live in the past rather than the future. The strait-dacket was a valuable invention. But, in the mean time, the prospect of having Sumter is very pleasant."

MORGAN PRINCE.

MORGAN PRINCE.

THIS FINE MORGAN STALLION WAS selected and purchased last Fall in New Hampshire, by the undersigned, after a careful personal examination of some foor to five hundred stock Horses, for his pure Morgan blood, and as possessing in a very high degree all the requisite points of an A No. 1 Stock Horse.

Morgan Prince was nine years old last season, is a beautiful dark bay, with black legs, mane and tail, and without white; weighs, when in good flesh, 1250 to 1300 pounds. Has been broken to harness, and has unsurpassed beauty of style and action, great muscular power, excellent disposition, and for smoothness of gait, bottom and speed, as a trotter, is not excelled by any. He is remarkably sure, and a marked peculiarity of this Horse's stock is a very striking resemblance to himself, both in color and form, as we saw exemplified in some forty specimens of his get examined by us.

Morgan Prince was sired by Keni's Granite State Morgan, by Garden Tiger or Boston Morgan, by Justin Morgan. His dam by Canana or Kenyon Morgan, by Barton Tiger or Boston Morgan, by Justin Morgan.

Morgan Prince reseived the first premium in the year 1856, in his class of Sherman Morgan, by Justin Morgan.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS

The preprietors and manufacturers of HOSTETTERS CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS can appeal with perfect confidence to physicians and citizens generally of the United States, because the article has attained a reputation heretofore unknown. A few facts upon this point will speak more powerfully than scalumes of bore assertion or blozoning paffery. The consumption of Hostetter's Stomach Hitters for the last year amounted to over a half-million bottles, and from its manufest steady increase in times post, it is evident that during the coming year the consumption will reach near one million bottles. This immense smount could merer have been sold but for the rare medicinal properties contained in the preparation, and the sunction of the most prosinent physicians in those sections of the country where the article is best known, who not only recommend the Bitters to their patients, but are ready at all times to give festimonials to its efficacy in all cases of stomachic derangements and the discases resulting therefrom.

This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary efforts in the way of trumpeting the qualities of the Bitters but a solid estimation of an invaluable medicine, which is destined to be as enduring as time Itself.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have proved a Godsend to regions where fover and ague and various other bilious complaints have counted their victims by hundreds. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters' are a certain cure for the Dyspepsia and like diveases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, liver, and other digestive organs, mildly but powerfully, and soon restores them to acondition essential to the healthy discharge of the fauctions of nature.

Elderly persons may use the Bitters daily as per difrections on the hortle, and they will find in it a stimulant peculiarly adapted to comfort declining years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonic, and rejuvenning generally well as certain to give a permanent increase of bodily strength.

All those persons, to whom we have particularly referred above, to wit: sufferers from fever and ague, caused by malaria, diarrhea, dysentery, indigestion, less of appetite, and all diseases or derangements of the stomach, superannuated invalids, persons of sedentary occupation, and nursing quothers, will consult their own physical welfare by giving to Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Litters a trial.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many similations or counterfeits, but ask for Hostetters' Celebrated Stomach Eitters a Caucharates.

STOMACH BIFTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label label.

Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth of it, what we have never been able to say of any other wedicine—Never has it failed, in a single instance, to effect a care, when timely used. Never and we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are dolighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and audiesdical virtues. We speak in this matter "what we do know," after ten years experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we do know," after ten years experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we do know," after ten years experience where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustation, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the preceription of one of the most experienced and skilled nurses in New England, and has been used with sever fulfing success in Relief and Health te-Your Infants.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic

Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the best and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of Dyscatery and Discrete in Children, whether it arrises from techning or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints. Do not let your perjudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child, and the relief that will be sure—yes, absolutely sure-to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genaine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.
